

WOOFER
Sander Mulder
2006

Who let the dogs out? Man's best friend is going to be responsible for a lot of noise, with the Woofer speaker system. It's available as a dual sound system where two dogs combine for the best Woofer experience. Grotesque kitsch perhaps, but something that attracts people's eyes nonetheless.

WOOFER CHAIR
Ministry of Design
2011

If you've ever fancied relaxing in a loudspeaker, here's your chance. The Woofer Chair's design was inspired by a loudspeaker, and also has technologically advanced features, allowing sound waves to vibrate throughout the seat; this lets the user hear and even feel the audio spectrum, thanks to sophisticated sound actuators hidden inside the fibreglass structure of the chair.
